

Fortis Energy Services Expands Sales Force in Rocky Mountain Region With Addition of Sales Representative, Bob Anderson

Troy, MI Fortis Energy Services announced the recent expansion of the Rocky Mountain Region sales force with the hiring of Dickinson resident Bob Anderson.

“Bob brings a wealth of experience working with operators in the Bakken, both in North Dakota and Montana,” said Brandon Baudry, Fortis Director of Business Development. “He has a strong reputation as a seasoned sales executive with a keen understanding of the industry.”

Before coming to Fortis Bob was a successful account manager for a major spill containment company and served as an account representative for a global technology company.

Bob is charged with growing and maintaining the region’s customer base. He has a Bachelor of Technical Management degree from DeVry University.

About Fortis

Fortis Energy Services is a multi-award- winning oil and gas well- servicing company with corporate headquarters in Michigan and operations throughout the Rocky Mountain and Appalachian regions, specializing in well completions, down-hole repairs, maintenance, workovers and plugging and abandonment.

www.fortisenergyservices.com

For Information contact: Nancy Thompson nthompson@fortisenergyservices.com